

ReGeneration Nation

AN ECOSYSTEM OF COMMUNITIES BUILDING
A REGENERATIVE & JUST FUTURE-NOW

Sponsorship Program

Who is Transition US?

Transition US, a registered 501c3, is a network of communities working to cultivate a just, caring, resilient, and regenerative world through the training, support, and collaboration of local groups (also known as Transition Initiatives) across the United States. Transition Initiatives launch multiple placed-based projects in their neighborhoods to build community resiliency in a variety of impact areas including renewable energy, access to healthy food, waste reduction, strengthening local economies, disaster readiness, water conservation, and more. Transition US provides each Transition Initiative with training, resources, and support networks to launch, sustain, and deepen the impact of their projects. Since 2009, over 13,000 local projects have been launched across the United States.

ReGeneration Nation Campaign

In January 2022, Transition US launched a new three-year campaign, "ReGeneration Nation" to nurture our collective energy to build more just and regenerative communities at every scale. This campaign focuses on deepening the support for existing Transition Initiatives to incorporate regenerative practices into all aspects of their work, and also mobilize the next generation of environmental justice leaders to launch regenerative projects in their local communities. We are seeking sponsorship from organizations and companies to support the ReGeneration Campaign to provide the resources needed to reimagine and rebuild our world.
